CBS INTERACTIVE AUSTRALIA

2010 March - present

Front-end Developer

COMPANY CBS Interactive is the world's premium content network and the global top ten internet property in the world. CBS Interactive is the home of a strong-performing portfolio of Australian web destinations including CNET Australia (consumer technology), GameSpot AU (video gaming), CBS Moneywatch (finance/business/management guidance), TV.com (TV gossip and fan discussion), TechRepublic (developer news), and ZDNet Australia (business technology).

ROLE I'm currently working as Front-end Developer for CBS Interactive Australia. My role includes design, development and maintenance across all CBS Interactive websites, interactive ad design and development, as well as some marketing design.

I have worked on a multitude of global clientele such as Microsoft, Nokia, Activision, Paramount Pictures and many more.

FLUIDX

2008 - 2010

Graphic Designer / Web Developer

COMPANY Fluidx is a progressive and dynamic online interactive boutique that provides a diverse range of multimedia solutions, including: design and art direction, web media, print media and interaction design. Clientele include IBM, Hyundai, Nokia and many more.

ROLE My role includes graphic design, web design and development including design, PHP, HTML & CSS, animation concepting, character design, as well as interactive design.

I would work as part of a team and on my own to deliver outstanding results. It was often the case to work under multiple projects.

My projects include Cream Magazine, McCafe, Davenport, Dove, Carlton Draught, Centro shopping complex and many more.

AWM

2005 - 2007

Inhouse Graphic Designer

COMPANY Australian Workstation Manufacturers (AWM) is one of Australia's largest workstation manufacturers. Clientele include University of New South Wales, Lexus and many more.

ROLE I worked as the sole in-house Graphic Designer/Web Developer for the company as well as its partnering company Frontline Office Furniture.

My roles included all areas of design and coordination such as all websites design/development and maintenance, all marketing design, photo editing, project management, coordinating products with overseas factories, as well as junior Graphic Design staff training and office admin duties.

(AWM had since undergone major design and web changes, and does not reflect on my time there)

ADC PRODUCTIONS

2004 - present

Graphic Designer

COMPANY A Different Corner Productions (ADC) is a non-profit organization active in the performing arts industry of Australia, bringing upcoming young dance and music talents into the spotlight with various band/dance competitions, theatre play, performing arts events and much more.

ROLE My role at ADC was to coordinate design elements and multimedia, including promotional design for various productions such as posters, flyers, business cards, etc. As well as camera operator during live events.

I continue to work with ADC to this day in my spare time as a volunteer because it is an exciting and satisfying experience.
